ROCKLEY

Treat yourself to a getaway at the delightful Buddens Guesthouse. Located in the historic village of Rockley just a picturesque 20 minutes drive south of Bathurst.

Formally the Rockley Bank, this was the changeover stop for the gold coach that carried gold from Burruga to Bathurst and the stable block and coach house was once the stopover for the Cobb & Co coaches on the same route.

The main house boasts three queen rooms and two double rooms. With delightful décor and cosy sitting rooms, the guesthouse exudes warmth and charm and boasts an impressive array of artwork and artefacts.

GUESTHOUSE

Relax on the verandah with a candlelit dinner, curl up with a good book in the garden, enjoy a port in front of one of the log fires or simply enjoy the serenity of this charming village.

The surrounding gardens are an ideal location for functions and weddings.

The Banksia Cottage is located in the gardens of Buddens overlooking the weir and park. This spacious, two bedroom cottage can sleep six and offers a fully equipped kitchen with separate dining area, large lounge and modern bathroom. This sun drenched, self contained cottage is an ideal retreat for a couple or group.

Explore the historic village of Rockley with its English style village green bounded by the Rockley Weir - a permanent creek bordered with gumtrees and willows all within walking distance of Buddens. This will be a unique experience to treasure.
